Precision Planning Requires Precision Management and Immediate Access

Integrated Digital Systems (IDS) has been your trusted neighbor for over a decade and will continue to be in the years to come. Through the years, we have contributed to the success of architectural and planning professionals through value added, client focused solutions. Whether you are a studio architectural company with a staff of less than 15 or an international firm of over 1500 spanning the continents, LW/IDS will provide scaleable, web accessible, document management solutions that can be tailored to your company's exacting needs.

Workflow Management

In the competitive fast paced world of engineering and planning– collaboration and accountability are a must. To keep your company leading the pack, LW/IDS can outfit your team with our Edge Workflow™ technology.

In the office; in the field; or on another continent, Edge Workflow™ is a simple, yet, robust business tool. LW/IDS collaboration technology ensures the right people have access to the right information at the right time and workflows are efficient and effective. Edge Workflow™ integrates with Microsoft Outlook and can be deployed in a single department, across an enterprise, or in B2B environments.

Document Conversion, Management and Access

Your project critical documents are far too important to be misfiled, mislabeled or lost. From aged, tissue thin, blueprints to your most current contracts, LW/IDS can provide on or off-site, secure, document conversion into any format. Bar coding technology ensures that every one of your documents is instantly and accurately filed. LW/IDS web based storage products will allow you to centralize, search, control, classify and track electronic business files regardless of format. With LW/IDS solutions, you are able to instantly and securely access any document; any time; anywhere; from any internet connection.
